

Growing and Harvesting Gratitude

Growing Gratitude

- Choose a special vessel to hold your gratitude garden. (For example, if an actual garden pot does not appeal to you, you may select a bowl, a basket, or a treasure box instead.)
- Prepare an intentional place for your gratitude garden: for example, in your prayer space, on your bedside table, or at the entrance to your home.
- At the end of the day, center in presence.
- Experience your breath, however it rises and falls.
- As you breathe, invite the Spirit of Love to fill you, to enfold you, and to flow through you.
- Feel your heartbeat in your chest.
- Let your heart guide your reflections on the day: What memorable moments evoke my felt sense of gratitude?
- Write each memorable moment on a slip of paper: "I am grateful for _____."
- Fold each slip of paper, inviting your body to integrate the experience, even beyond your conscious awareness.
- Plant your folded slips of paper in your gratitude garden.
- Repeat this practice daily.

Harvesting Gratitude

- When a month of memorable moments has passed, center in presence.
- Experience your breath, however it rises and falls.
- As you breathe, invite the Spirit of Love to fill you, to enfold you, and to flow through you.
- Feel your heartbeat in your chest.
- Let your heart guide you.
- Harvest gratitude by rereading each slip of folded paper planted in your garden.
- Notice patterns across your memorable moments, and group related gratitude slips.
- In your journal, write a reflection:
 - As I freshly experience my memorable moments, how do I feel?
 - Across my memorable moments, what patterns do I notice?
 - Who/What helps me to cultivate gratitude?
 - What is one invitation that I sense in this season of my life?
 - What is my intention now?
- Return your folded slips of paper to your gratitude garden to enrich future growth.
- Give thanks for your life and for all those who have made it possible for you to be here now.
- You are welcome to plant new memorable moments in your garden and to continue growing and harvesting gratitude in the months ahead.
- At the end of the year, let your Word for the New Year arise organically from your gratitude celebration.
